Extension of the period of stay for foreign nationals affected by the Great East Japan Earthquake

According to a Ministry of Justice public notice of March 16, 2011, the period of stay is extended to August 31, 2011 for foreign nationals for whom all of the following applied at the time of the March 11th earthquake:

- a) residing in Japan in possession of a status of residence.
- b) their period of stay is due to expire by August 30, 2011.
- c) they were in the disaster areas, or their registered places of residence are in the disaster areas.

This includes those cases where the foreign national was residing with a special provision on the period of stay at the time of this earthquake, and those cases where the foreign national whose registered place of residence was in the disaster area at the time of the occurrence of this earthquake and who was outside of Japan on a re-entry permit, re-enters Japan by August 30, 2011 (if re-entry was within the valid period of the permit).

※ For more information: Immigration Information Center (0570-013904, (IP,PHS,overseas:03-5796-7112)), or your nearest regional immigration bureau (Yokohama District Immigration Office 045-769-1720, Kawasaki Branch Office 044-965-0012)

To the international students who returned home because of the Great East Japan Earthquake:

After the March 11th earthquake, a large number of international students departed from Japan, but being in a hurry, some left without obtaining re-entry permission.

Such students will need to apply for a new visa in order to start the new semester. In cooperation with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the necessary procedures have been simplified so they can return to Japan in time for the next semester, and they will be eligible to acquire a new visa from the Japanese embassy or consulate in as short a time as possible.

For more information, please contact the Consular Services Center – Visa Unit of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (Tel: 03-5501-8431), or the nearest Japanese embassy or consulate.

School Matriculation for Children Displaced by the Great East Japan Earthquake:

The Board of Education has decided that children who have moved to Kawasaki City because of the recent major earthquake will be able to enroll in public elementary and junior high schools whether or not they can produce their certificate of residence. For more information please inquire at the Ward Residents Section of the ward office or branch office covering your new address or workplace.
