Where to see cherry blossoms in Kawasaki City

This year the peak of the cherry blossoms will probably be from late March to early April.

In Kawsasaki City there are many parks and green spaces that have a lot to offer. As we did last year, we'll introduce a couple of good places here to see the cherry blossoms.

Nikaryo Irrigation Channel (Tama Ward, 2-minutes walk from Shukugawara Station on the JR Nambu Line)

This historical irrigation channel was built during the Edo period. About 400 cherry trees line the watercourse for about 2 kilometers.

About 250 cherry trees line the river, weaving together overhead to form a pink tunnel.
